Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hamzy, U.S. patent No. 6,623,527.

Hamzy teaches a system and method for performing a network service in response to a button selection by a user (see abstract).

As to claims 1, 10 and 14, Hamzy teaches a method, computer program and system respectively for launching a browser or other service, comprising the steps of:

determining if a predetermined event has occurred (see col. 4 lines 33-65, user sends a print request); and sending a command to a system to launch the browser or service to a particular network location if the predetermined event is determined to have occurred (see col. 4 lines 33-65, the print request is processed by the server).

As to claim 2, Hamzy teaches the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the browser and/or service is launched after receipt of the command to launch (see col. 4 lines 33-65).

As to claims 3 and 11, Hamzy teaches the method and computer program as defined in claims 1 and 10 respectively, wherein the determining step comprises receiving information including a request to launch or other information relating to the predetermined event (see col. 4 lines 33-65).

As to claim 4, Hamzy teaches the method as defined in claim 3, wherein the receiving information step comprises the step of authenticating the received information and only sending the command to launch the browser and/or service if the request is properly authenticated (see col. 5 lines 49-col. 6 lines 2).

As to claims 5 and 12, Hamzy teaches the method and computer program as defined in claims 3 and 10 respectively, wherein the receiving information step comprises the step of listening on a network for requests to launch the browser and/or service or other information relating to the predetermined event (see col. 4 lines 33-65).

As to claims 6 and 13, Hamzy teaches the method and computer program as defined in claims 1 and 10 respectively, wherein the determining step comprises the step of polling a web site to determine if the predetermined event has occurred (see col. 4 lines 33-65).

As to claim 7, Hamzy teaches the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the predetermined event is an indication that a print job is completed (see col. 5 lines 33-65 and col. 6 lines 5-65).

As to claim 8, Hamzy teaches the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the predetermined event is an indication that a print job has been interrupted (see col. 5 lines 49-col. 6 lines 25).

As to claim 9, Hamzy teaches the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the predetermined event is an indication that a job at a web service has been interrupted (see col. 5 lines 49-col. 6 lines 25).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
4. Applicant's submission of an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR 1.97(c) with the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(p) on April 22, 2005 prompted the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 609(B)(2)(i). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
